Dear Mrs. D'Lima:

For my Senior Exit Project, I have chosen to create "Tech Insight Studio," an online non-profit educational organization. This idea was inspired by my personal experience of self-studying for AP exams without access to affordable, high-quality resources. Many students, especially those from lower-income backgrounds, face similar challenges due to the high costs of tutoring services. Witnessing this gap in the market, I was motivated to establish an organization that provides accessible and quality education to all students, regardless of financial status.

My research paper will explore the role and impact of non-profit educational models in making quality education more equitable and accessible. This includes analyzing successful non-profit education initiatives and how they have reshaped access to learning resources. There is significant research available on how non-profit models contribute to community growth and student success, which will provide a strong foundation for this project.

As a non-profit organization, "Tech Insight Studio" will focus on developing a comprehensive curriculum for AP subjects, specifically in AP Precalculus, AP Calculus (AB+BC), AP Chemistry, and AP Physics 1. We will offer free large group classes for these courses, limited to 30 students per class, while providing study materials, notes, and detailed exam question analyzes freely accessible to anyone in need. Key tasks include course development, resource creation, website design and management, and online platform setup. I will coordinate with team members to execute these tasks, ensuring we maintain the high quality and accessibility that drive our mission.

In summary, "Tech Insight Studio" aims to bridge the gap in the education market by offering high-quality, free, and affordable educational resources as a non-profit. This project reflects my commitment to providing equitable education opportunities and will challenge me to grow in areas such as curriculum development, organizational management, and community outreach.

I understand the importance of academic integrity and am committed to ensuring all work for this project is original and properly credited. I am fully aware that any form of plagiarism will result in disqualification from the Senior Project and potential graduation consequences.

Sincerely,
